

PUBLIC LAND PROTECTION FUND

Join Wilderness Workshop to protect the integrity and future of our public lands!

In response to the significant and direct attacks on our public lands, wildlife, and climate*, Wilderness Workshop is taking decisive action to safeguard our conservation victories and counter new threats to our public lands. While we remain committed to our long-term proactive campaigns to protect local wildlands, water, and wildlife, we must simultaneously ensure that our recent conservation gains are maintained and local landscapes protected from extractive uses.

Annual Strategic Protection Budget: $300,000

To date we have raised over $200,000 in gifts and commitments to help Wilderness Workshop plan for the future. Your contribution directly supports our Public Lands protection and defense strategy, including:

- ▶ Working with Colorado elected representatives from both parties to protect our wildlife and public lands and waters
- ▶ Mobilizing community and political advocacy for the places we cherish most
- ▶ Minimizing impacts of federal funding gaps on western Colorado's public lands
- ▶ Utilizing rapid response communications and advocacy to counter poor decision-making from Washington, D.C. through our Conservation Watchdog program
- ▶ Defending critical landscapes like the Thompson Divide, the Camp Hale-Continental Divide National Monument and roadless areas
- ▶ Resisting the rapid expansion of oil and gas leasing and drilling on our public lands

Your Support Protects Our Backyard

Our public lands are more than just vital wildlife habitats rich in biodiversity—they are the landscapes we explore, the watersheds we rely on, the foundation for local economies, and the breathtaking scenery that defines our home. We ask all community members who love these lands to contribute to this crucial fund.

**These actions include firing thousands of public land managers, executive orders to dramatically increase oil and gas drilling and logging while ignoring protections for endangered species, secretarial orders to revise or rescind protections for places like the Thompson Divide and the Camp Hale-Continental Divide National Monument, removal of common-sense federal environmental protections, and the elimination of opportunities for the public's voice to be heard.*

Recognition & Benefits for Donors

- Listed in all printed and online materials as a Public Land Protection Fund supporter
- Special recognition at some WW events and in our newsletter and annual report
- Quarterly updates from Executive Director Will Roush
- Exclusive invitations to special events, including a cocktail reception honoring our Protection Fund supporters
- Maroon Bells Circle membership for donors contributing $3,000 or more
- Commitments of $10,000 or more will be recognized as Public Land Protection Fund Founders

Join us in protecting the lands we love...

because their future depends on us.

To learn more or make a gift please contact WW Philanthropy Director Emily Kay, 610-888-4370, emily@wildernessworkshop.org.